

ABSTRACT

Interaction with a display occurs. A light point is transmitted towards the display. A mode of operation of the light point is established based on timing associated with illumination of the light point.

204070 215600